The home of independent fashion designers: www.Laden.co.uk stocks Oak Jeans online and in-store.

Scott Rogers, independent designer of British denim brand Oak Jeans feels very proud to have his label stocked in 'The Home of Independent Designers'. Oak Jeans has been worn by Kirstin Dunst, Jessica Jane, Anna Williamson, amongst others and is fast becoming a wardrobe staple for fashionistas everywhere. Being equally attractive to its fair share of celebs, the Laden Showroom on Brick Lane is the perfect stock spot for the designer denim.

Brick Lane is laden with brilliant restaurants, independent retailers and cool bars – it is the perfect pocket of London to hang out for the entire day... and your mates are bound to be wrenched with envy when they see your shopping bags filled with unique purchases from the stretch of funky stores – and the Laden Showroom is no exception, housing a host of independent fashion designers bringing you unique garments for any occasion ... so no more arriving at an event in the same high-street outfit as your nemesis. Although wearing the same dress as somebody else is a big fashion no-no, when it comes to your jeans you can just turn the other cheek and be proud to show-off the embroidered tree on your bottom.
